PURPOSEFUL BRANDING

Purposeful branding, which involves aligning a brand's values with its actions and messaging, can help create a strong and authentic brand identity that resonates with customers.

Over recent years, we have seen a fundamental behavioral shift across the globe as businesses actively embrace sustainable methods and values. At Geiger, we're proud to have been helping to shape the story with our ongoing commitment to sustainability.

By choosing to use environmentally responsible promotional products and ethical manufacturing methods, brands can not only reduce their impact on the planet but also demonstrate their commitment to sustainability and social responsibility. This can help build trust with customers who are increasingly conscious of the environmental and social impact of the products they use and the brands they support.

Geiger's commitment to environmental sustainability and expertise in helping businesses choose purposeful promotional products can be a valuable asset to companies looking to create a more sustainable and socially responsible brand image. By working with Geiger, businesses can not only meet their marketing and branding needs, but also make a positive impact on the planet and society.

GREEN GLOSSARY

B Corp Certification

Certified B Corporations are leaders in the global movement and use the power of business for social, environmental, and economic good.

Biodegradable

Materials that can be broken down and returned to the earth over time, without any processing.

Carbon Footprint

The measure of carbon emissions produced by an individual, product, company, activity, and more.

Carbon Neutral

Carbon dioxide emissions and carbon dioxide absorption equal each other out, leading to net neutral emissions.

Circular Economy

An economic system in which resources are used and reused for as long as possible, reducing waste and minimizing the need for new resources.

Conscious Capitalism

A form of capitalism that seeks to mutually benefit both people and the environment.

Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR)

Business strategies that companies put into action that are designed to ensure their operations are ethical and beneficial for society.

Ecological Footprint

The impact of a person, community, or business on the environment, expressed as the amount of land required to sustain their use of natural resources.

By understanding and incorporating these eco-terms into your promotional product strategies, brands can show their commitment to sustainability and appeal to customers who are increasingly looking for environmentally responsible products.

EcoVadis

Since its founding in 2007, EcoVadis has grown to become the world's largest and most trusted provider of business sustainability ratings, creating a global network of more than 125,000+ rated companies.

Fair Trade

Fair Trade ensures a fair partnership between consumers, producers, and businesses to achieve sustainable and equitable trade relationships.

Forest Stewardship Council (FSC)

Considered the "gold standard" designation for wood harvested from forests that are responsibly managed, socially beneficial, environmentally conscious, and economically viable.

Global Recycled Standard (GRS)

A voluntary product standard that verifies the use of recycled materials in products, ensuring transparency, credibility, and environmental responsibility throughout the supply chain.

rPET(Recycled Polyethylene Terephthalate)

Created by recycling plastics that were previously used as packaging materials, such as plastic bottles and food containers.

Recycled Materials

Recycling, recovery, and reprocessing waste materials to produce new products.

Renewable Energy

Comes from natural resources that are constantly replenishing, like the sun or wind.

Sustainable Forestry Initiative (SFI)

A not-for-profit organization that promotes responsible management of North American forests through standards, conservation, community involvement, and education.

Sustainability

Environmental practices that protect natural resources to maintain an ecological balance for future generations.

Zero Waste

Elimination of all waste so that nothing used ends up in a landfill, incinerator, or the ocean.

OUR COMMITMENT

Geiger is committed to a more sustainable future for promotional products, our business, and the planet.

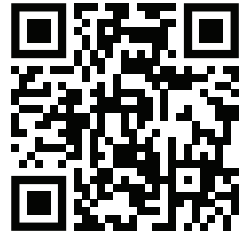

PRODUCTS

We advocate for and support any products that have been manufactured and sourced in a sustainable and renewable manner. We promote products:

- that are easily recyclable with low or less impact on raw materials
- containing or made from a sustainable or managed source
- which have been manufactured in consideration of their carbon footprint
- that contain organic, ethically sourced materials
- which utilize locally sourced materials needed to manufacture
- that are supplied in conjunction with an environmental initiative
- goods from suppliers who practice carbon offsetting

SOCIAL ENTERPRISE

Social enterprise is becoming more apparent in our supply chain, and we will be forever evolving along with our world. Social enterprise means working specifically to improve the environmental and social wellbeing of those around you. It's something that we feel passionately about and are proud to champion. Making a small change in the kinds of promotional products you buy can make a huge difference.

One of the many ways Geiger is proactive in this area is our distribution of products that are committed to giving back. You'll notice these products throughout this guide – just look for the heart-in-hands symbol.

You can bring deeper meaning to your next marketing campaign with sustainable products that not only help the planet and charitable causes, but also show that your brand is purpose-driven and socially responsible.
